

Little Miss Ambassador

Would you like to be involved with Willie's 2019 Little Miss Ambassador programme?

If so, in 2019, our adorable albino prognosticator will be choosing a little lassie to be Willie's Little Miss Ambassador.

The programme is intended to offer you opportunities to...

- ✓ have fun
- ✓ build confidence and self esteem
- ✓ enhance public speaking skills
- ✓ network with others
- ✓ meet new friends

If this interests you, let's talk.

What will you need to prepare for, you ask? How about:

- be an elementary school student between 7-10 years (before November 1, 2018) in the Town of South Bruce Peninsula, Municipality of Northern Bruce Peninsula, Township of Georgian Bluffs, Neyaashiinigmiing or City of Owen Sound
- complete a registration form (enclosed) and submit to Mary Lynn Standen no later than Thursday, November 1, 2018
- secure a sponsor (non-refundable fee of $50.00 payable to the Town of South Bruce Peninsula)
- prepare an essay (less than 50 words) (to be submitted with the registration form and fee) about what the Wiarthon Willie Festival means to you
- meet informally with the judges

- attend the same event where the Little Miss Ambassador will be announced along with the 2019 Ambassadors and Envoys
- at the announcement event, you will give a brief speech about yourself to the crowd of family, friends and well wishers

NOTE: Little Miss Ambassador will be required to be available for Prediction Morning, Saturday, February 2, 2019 as well as festival events throughout the town on February 2 and 3, 2019.

What will you gain from participating in the Ambassador and Envoy programme? Of course, it is the hope and wish that you will build new relationships and friends, hone your public speaking and communication skills but mostly just have some fun.

Consider this quote by Vera Wang: “Success isn’t about the end result, it’s about what you learn along the way.”

The pageant is very fortunate to have lead sponsor, Mothers’ Fabrics, endorsing the new programme. www.mothersfabricquiltshop.com. Mothers’ Fabrics, owned by Wendy Stewart, is located at 603 Berford Street. Wendy stocks thousands of bolts of material, all the newest patterns, books, thread, kits and incidentals. Call Wendy about sewing and quilting classes, (519) 534-4004, or drop in just for a chat or for the fun of it.
